Did you know?

Your phone lines are a point of vulnerability.

“Burglars Cut Phone Lines, Steal Valuables”

“Gang members cut telephone wires, disabling alarm”

“They’ve found a foolproof method to rob at will”

Such headlines are found more frequently in the news today. Your phone line is the single most vulnerable point in your home or business security system.

Wireless Alarm Communications eliminate that vulnerability and provide you with the protection and dedication that you need for total security.

You can provide maximum protection for your home or business with dedicated wireless communications, which report all alarms and status messages generated by your security system, regardless of your telephone functioning. A secure cellular link transmits alarm messages to the Central Monitoring Station, giving you the confidence that alarms will be transmitted instantly, 24 hours a day, 365 days a year, even when phone lines are down.

If you would like to learn more about obtaining a Wireless Alarm Communication system, please complete the attached form above and mail it back with your payment.

We will contact you with more information about this service.
